THE WINTEL-MANSFIELD CASE.

The Judgment in Favor of Actress Reversed.

The court of appeals yesterday after noon handed down an opinion, prepared by Chief Justice Alvey, in the case of Mary Sanders Winter against Richard Mansfield, reversing the judgment of the trial court. The verdict in the lower court was in favor of Mrs. Winter. She was awarded $1,300 in December last, as balance due under a contract for her services as an actress, which contract she claimed to have been broken by Mansfield without

Mrs. Winter brought suit in December last, for the breach of contract for witnessed the opening exercises of the the theatrical season of 1895-96, the alpay her at the rate of $75 per week for out cause or fustification, dismissed her

It was also charged that, in the way of compromise, the defendant agreed to pay Mrs. Winter $1,350, in weekly installments of $50 each. This agreement was was to exact a full satisfaction of the obligation, the amount claimed being $1,300, with interest from December 31.

The defense was that no such contract existed, and that Mr. Mansfield was not indebted to Mrs. Winter, The court of appeals, in its review of the case, decides that the only cause of was the refusal of Mr. Mansfield to pay the two installments due December 21 and 28, respectively, and that $100 was the sum that should have been sued for. The court says that the installments thus due were not sufficient to maintain the jurisdiction of the lower court, and the subsequent installments becoming due after the bringing of the action could not be included in the recovery, or reckoned a part of the claimant's claim.

The case was tried by jury in the lower court, and judgment rendered in favor of Mrs. Winter for the full amount of be claim. The court of appends remanded the case for such proceedings as will not be inconsistent with the opinion rendered.

She alleges, ulso that he refused, during the time they resided together, to allow her any money whatever for personal expenses, and at time kept her locked in a room away from her children. He also refused to call a physi-cian during her illness. The defendant was constantly demanding money of her, she him, and acted in a manner altogether

While handling a pot of boiling grease at her home, No. 1810 Twentieth street northwest, Tuesday evening, Carrie Augustus, colored, had her hands terribly burned, the skin and flesh falling off.

Col. Fuller Improving. General Passenger Agent H. W. Fuller, of the Chesapeake and Onlo Railway, whose foot was operated on at Providence Hospital on Tuesday, was reported yesterday afternoon to be improving rapidly.

Every day engagements are entered into, and marriages are made between people who have no business to be married. Wo-men enter into the most serious obligation of life without the proper physical equip ment for it. When a woman marries, she tacitly makes the declaration that she means to become the mother of children. This declaration ought also to mean that she is physically able to perform what she undertakes. The bearing of a child is all too frequently an injustice to both mother and child. The woman who expects to bear intellectual and physically healthy children, should be herself in strong and vigorous health. The organs that make her a woman should be free from any taint of disease or weakness. If they are not, the child will have a bare chance for health, and the mother may easily make herself a weak, nervous, semi-invalid for the rest of her life. Female weakness of any kind—whether hereditary or acquired—may be cured by the right sort of treatment. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is designed for the treatment and cure of just this one class of diseases and no other. It works in a perfectly rational way directly on the organs affected. It cleanses them of all impurities; allays any inflammation that may be present—and that generally is present in sickness; restores the organs to their natural, healthy, regular action—prepares them for the accomplishment of woman's greatest work, and if taken during gestation, the time of parturition will be comparatively safe and painless.

The "Pavorite Prescription" is not a cure all. ment for it. When a woman marries, she acitly makes the declaration that she means parintition will be comparatively sale and painless.

The "Pavorite Prescription" is not a curcall, and if the general system is run-down. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery should be taken in connection with the "Pavorite Prescription." These two medicines together have the most wonderful influence on a woman's health. They will round out the hollows in her checks, bring redness to bloodless lips, and brightness to lack-lustre-eyes. At all drug stores.
